NopeTrap Family Plan

Card Skimmers at the Pump & ATM — Don't Get Played. Print it. Fill it in. Put it on the fridge.

Warning signs

- A broken or missing security seal on the pump door
- A card slot that's loose, bulky, or a different color
- A keypad that feels thick or spongy
- A pump far from the store window
- Small charges you don't recognize — thieves test cards
- Skimmers can hide inside the pump, so you may not see one

What to do

1. Tap to pay or use a phone wallet when you can.
2. Use a credit card, not debit, at the pump.
3. Pick a pump close to the store.
4. Wiggle the card reader before you pay.
5. Turn on text alerts for every card.
6. Run debit as credit so you don't type a PIN.

OUR 10-MINUTE CARD CHECKLIST

☐ Text alerts on for every card ☐ Tap-to-pay set up ☐ Bank fraud number saved

Family rule: any weird charge — call the bank first, then tell the family.

Emergency contacts

Name / phone: _____

Name / phone: _____

My bank's fraud line: _____

Card fraud line (back of card): _____

Local police (non-emergency): _____

Report it

- Your bank or card company — call the number on the back of your card
- FTC: ReportFraud.ftc.gov and IdentityTheft.gov
- FBI IC3: ic3.gov
-
- Elder Fraud Hotline (age 60+): 1-833-FRAUD-11 (1-833-372-8311), Mon–Fri 10am–6pm ET

Real case: One crew stole at least 8,229 card numbers from gas pumps (U.S. Secret Service, 2023).

NopeTrap: Don't Get Played — free to print and share. Not legal or financial advice. Sources: FTC, FBI IC3, DOJ.